SOWING SEEDS OF ENCOURAGEMENT

From the same mouth come blessing and cursing. This need not be so, my brothers.

(James 3:10)

While making my daily rounds at the nursing home, I find that the time spent with the staff is just as important as the time I spend with the residents. I try to encourage the staff in what they do, to thank them and to ask God's blessings on their work. They almost always respond with a smile, and I like to think that my caring for them lightens their day. When we use our mouths for blessing and encouraging, we bring joy to others.

People in your life can benefit from your blessing and encouragement. Your family members need to know that they are loved and appreciated. If a salesperson or a waiter serves you well, you can offer a word of thanks. The benefits of doing this will come to rest upon you too. Whenever you sow seeds of blessing and encouragement, you reap the joy that comes from offering happiness to others. In this way, we imitate God who blesses us with life and helps us to live it well.

Lord, thank you for your blessings on my life. May I not miss the opportunities to offer blessings to others. (From Living Faith)
